

PATHWAYS TO CAREERS IN LIBERAL STUDIES

The Department of Liberal Studies offers three options that prepare students to become elementary school teachers. A fourth option in the Interdisciplinary Study of Culture and Society can provide a gateway into a wide variety of graduate programs, law schools, and professional careers. For example, Liberal Studies majors can go on to post-baccalaureate studies in the following fields:

- American Studies
- Anthropology
- Business/Public Administration
- Classical Studies
- Communication Studies
- Education
- Folklore
- International Relations
- Law
- Liberal Studies
- Library Science
- Medicine and Pharmacology
- Political Science
- Race and Ethnicity Studies
- Science and Technology Studies
- Sociology and Social Work
- Urban Planning/ Urban Studies
- Women and Gender Studies

With additional training Liberal Studies students can become:

- Administrators in Public or Non-Profit Agencies
- Attorneys
- Business Professionals
- Doctors
- Librarians
- Professional Writers
- Social Workers
- Teachers