

(Nursing 105 Worksheet pt. 2)

Building on your search terms: Using CINAHL

Part E. Find two articles on safety for your assignment.

1. Go to CINAHL Plus with Full Text database.
2. Perform a search on a safety issue in the field of nursing.
3. Choose an article from the results list that looks interesting and on topic. Read the abstract.
4. If the article looks pertinent, provide the following information from the article record:

Article #1

Title of the Article: _____

Author(s) of Article: _____

Name of the Journal: _____

Volume Number of the Journal: _____

Issue Number of the Journal: _____

(Hint: some journals do not have issue #)

Date of the Journal Issue: _____

Page Numbers for the Article: _____

Read the Entire Article & Answer the Following Questions:

1. What is the main argument posed by this safety article? In two sentences, state the argument below:

2. What population does this safety article address?

3. What gender does this safety article mainly address?

4. What age group does this safety article address?

5. Does this safety article address any particular race or ethnicity?

6. According to the article, what are the specific safety concerns relevant to this population? Write down three:

7. Go through the article and underline or circle key terms that relate to the question you asked. Pay particular attention to any terms that were unfamiliar to you. Don't forget to include the names of key people or organizations.

8. Go through the article record from CINAHL Plus with Full Text and write down the specific subject headings (also called Major subjects/Minor subjects) if there are any.

9. Using terms from #7. or #8 above, see if you can find a second article that complements this one using CINAHL. Copy that article and attach to this worksheet.