

California State University, Los Angeles

The Offices of Undergraduate Studies and Service Learning are pleased to invite you to a symposium:

Community Engagement: A Campus Conversation

with

Dr. Amy Driscoll

Keynote speaker and facilitator

- Defining Community Engagement: What is an engaged campus?
- Taking Stock: How engaged is CSULA?
- Looking Ahead: What action steps can the University, Colleges, and Departments take to become more engaged?

Friday, February 8, 2008

9 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

Golden Eagle Ballroom

(breakfast will be served)

Dr. Amy Driscoll is a nationally recognized scholar of community engagement, civic education, and service learning. She has been a scholar with the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and served as director of Community/University Partnerships at Portland State University.

Please RSVP by Friday, January 18, 2008. For more information or to RSVP, please contact Michelle Hawley at mhawley@calstatela.edu or (323) 343-5815.