November 27, 2018

I am pleased to present the 2018-19 budget. The budget plan was carefully developed to further the campus mission of cultivating our students’ unique talents, diverse life experiences, and intellect through engagement, teaching, research, and public service for the greater good. This budget is more than a set of financial statements, it is a reflection of these commitments and serves as a foundation from which we continue to engage our students, faculty, staff, and the campus community.

We have a lot to be proud of here at Cal State LA. The University is national leader in fostering upward mobility and is well positioned to lead the LA region in producing industry leaders in healthcare, finance, technology, biosciences, and in the arts and entertainment. The University has been ranked again among the top universities in the nation in Washington Monthly’s annual college guide. The magazine’s 2018 College Ranking Guide names Cal State LA number six in its 150 “Top Master’s Universities” category, which includes institutions that grant graduate degrees. Additionally, our University has been selected as a premier educational anchor institution by the Coalition of Urban and Metropolitan Universities as part of a new effort to uplift and transform the economies and social well-being of the region.

The Campaign for Cal State LA is a defining moment in the history of the University. The success of our alumni is a clear indication of the quality of our colleges and academic programs. This campaign will support academic distinction that is paramount to the university. The pillars of our strategic plan will be supported by the campaign, and through our welcoming and inclusive campus we will continue to deliver and support student success. We Are LA.

As Cal State LA advances in the national landscape, we are also transforming the University landscape through unprecedented campus constructions to facilitate expansion and growth to foster innovation in bioscience, student housing, and parking structure development. It is an exciting time at the University.

While this year’s budget has been established, we now begin the process of planning for the FY 2019-20 budget requests. As a community, we must continue to work closely with the Chancellor’s Office and our constituents to advocate for the CSU and all the great things we do for our students and the community. In the Chancellor’s Office 2019-20 budget requests, the California State University (CSU) remains firmly committed to opening the doors of opportunity to all qualified Californians. The CSU will require a connected commitment from the state to provide necessary financial support. Indeed, the best way to keep California moving forward is through a robust investment in the CSU.

As a University, we must be mindful that resource allocations must be prudently managed to achieve even greater operational efficiencies, while maintaining the highest standards in service delivery to our students and campus community.
