Cal State LA’s College of Business and Economics remains an integral part of the Los Angeles community for over 50 years. Our MBA program builds upon that legacy. We combine a respected, accredited program, with flexible scheduling and the affordability of a state university. With eight option specialties to choose from, students can develop a focus area to meet immediate and long term career goals. The college is consistently ranked among the best business schools in the Princeton Review and US News & World Report and is a recognized leader in enabling the social mobility of its students.

“My time at Cal State LA has been such a positive experience. I’ve not only been able to thrive academically, but also balance my career with the important things in my life – my family.”

Belem Enciso - MBA Candidate

In preparing professionals for 21st century careers, we build opportunities to learn new skills and make connections to the Los Angeles business community. Led by academic thought leaders and industry professionals, students develop innovative ideas and build skills through hands-on projects based in current business practices. Supported by our alumni and business partners students build the network and skills to succeed.
GLOBALLY CONNECTED

Our connections in the international business hub of Los Angeles enable us to give students a global perspective on handling current business issues. Our students take advantage of speaker series and opportunities to compete in national competitions. They develop professional skills through career seminars and networking events with business leaders. Faculty continuously challenge students to make the most of themselves and the program. Graduates leave ready for leadership roles wherever their career takes them.
