The Pasadena City College Pi Day Annual Student Conference has served local students for the past 7 years. It provides a friendly platform for students to present and share their learning, discoveries, and research accomplishments related to mathematics and the sciences. This year's Pi Day Annual Student Conference will take place at Pasadena City College on March 12 & 13, 2019. We have proudly invited our keynote speaker, Dr. Daphne Der-Fen Liu from the Department of Mathematics at California State University, Los Angeles. We have also invited many professionals for a panel discussion from local entrepreneurs, leading business, technology, and engineering industries.
