Appointment Plus

Thank you to all those who attended the 2-hour Appointment Plus training (UAAC, EOP, PAGE, Admissions, the Graduate Resource Center, Financial Aid, Honors College, and the colleges of A&L, CCOE, ECST, HHS, HHS, and NSS and CCOE), and the College of B&E for conducting the presentation! There were over 70 people in attendance! With the expected increase for advising with regard to Q2S, Appointment Plus has been implemented across campus to help streamline the process for scheduling advising appointments. making booking an appointment quicker, easier and more efficient! There will soon be links to book online advising appointments on our website. In the meantime, you may visit college and department websites to access this new feature where applicable!

Presentation for Student Organizations

Last month, nearly 200 student leaders received semester conversion information during the Center of Student Involvement’s (CSI) Organizational Development Meeting. Organizational development meetings are mandatory for all student organizations who seek recognition from the campus. An exclusive Q2S t-shirt was won by one attentive student who answered, “Who should students speak with in order to prepare for semesters?”

Advisement Subcommittees

The advisement subcommittees are working intensively to assist advisors in helping students prepare for our momentous transition! A “Q2S Student Checklist” and detailed step-by-step webpage are currently under development, and will be posted under the “Student” tab on the Semester Conversion website. Stay tuned as we begin advisor training and rollout in the next few months!
