FYI: Regarding Curriculum Processing

The Office of Semester Conversion has played a role in explaining many of the curricular policies and procedures of the university re. curriculum and in facilitating adjustments to them in the light of conversion deadlines. Our website also posts much information re. such. However, the final authority on matters pertaining to curriculum remains in the hands of the Office of Undergraduate Studies and the University EPC. Please communicate directly with that Office if you have questions that need clarification regarding policies and procedures for processing curriculum. If colleges could pass this information along to all chairs and faculty, it would be greatly appreciated. Thank you for your collaborative efforts and dedication to Semester Conversion and student success!
