1.3 Senator Bodinger-deUriarte (8/30 Concern: ASM 16-3):
Response: On September 6, 2016, Vice Provost Tom Enders, issued a communication to the campus community which included the following language that addressed this concern:

"Enrollment Cancellation for Non-Payment: The fee payment deadline is September 12. Students who are enrolled but have a fall financial obligation are subject to disenrollment. This disenrollment will occur only once for the term on census (September 19). Students who applied for financial aid and are on-track to still receive financial aid or have a pending appeal will be protected from the disenrollment process. These students will receive a communication Sept 6 letting them know that their classes are protected. In this case, an enrollment hold will be placed on their future registration until their current balance is resolved. Students who are dis-enrolled for non-payment will not receive W’s on their transcript and will only be considered for the ‘late add petition’ process if they can clearly demonstrate institutional error."

The Executive Committee of the Academic Senate will be meeting with Vice Provost Enders on September 29, 2016 to discuss other issues related to financial aid and enrollment services.

1.4 Senator Aniol (8/30 Concern: ASM 16-3):
Response: The Executive Committee discussed this issue and determined that there is no way to ensure that students enroll only in the courses that they plan to take although better advising including access to degree planning tools and enhanced course scheduling and class availability will help to mitigate this problem.

2. None.

INTENT TO RAISE QUESTIONS

3. Senator Aniol announced his intent to raise the following question: The Senate during winter and spring quarters discussed the issue of royalties from book sales. No decision was made that I remember but there seemed to be no problem with departments receiving royalties from the campus book store for supplemental resources, like lab manuals, they produced for their courses. These lab manuals are not commercially available and are particularly written for the equipment the department has. How was the decision made that departments no longer can be paid royalties from the campus book store?
