Chair Acevedo reported that these budgetary priorities were all approved by the Exec Committee, and were well received by the University RAAC. FiPC members discussed concerns about Budgetary Priorities, specifically the status of the UAS Director position. Based on the concerns of FiPC members, they recommended scheduling a time certain with L. Chavez (CFO) to discuss the UAS Director position and Funding of Grants and lines of authority; J. Underwood (AVP for Research) to get status report from consultant brought in the summer to discuss funding issues and Research and Development grants. In addition, FiPC members believe that the new UAS Director should report directly to the AVP of Research (J. Underwood). The FiPC members decided on four other specific time certain: N. Wada-Mckee, VP for Student Life, C. Rodriguez, Dean of the Library and J. Dial, VP for University Advancement, and Provost Mahoney.

Chair Acevedo shared concerns raised about the new elevator company that was contracted. When elevators need servicing, the new company comes during the peak of day, whereas the former company would service in the middle of the night to minimize disruption. FiPC members discussed whether the University is providing enough training for students and faculty to understand the new learning management system, Canvas. Chair Acevedo raised a concern about Kanopy, which is a film database available to faculty, students, and staff but per Dean Rodriguez of the Library, the university has a limited subscription that hinders access to this resource. FiPC members recommended a time certain with C. Rodriguez to discuss these issues. Chair Acevedo discussed memo sent from Faculty Affairs that states Faculty are no longer able to donate Faculty Development funds to other faculty members. Instead, funds that are not used after three years will be return to the faculty’s college.

Chair Acevedo also went over the FiPC Charge, Membership and Overall Structure memo; Per the memo, each FiPC members from their respective colleges should also be a representative for their College RAAC to review the following aspects of their respective committee/subcommittee (Committee Charge, Membership, and Current Structure) as these members feedback is due by October 15, 2018. Chair Acevedo met with these members after the FiPC meeting.

Chair Acevedo will follow up on the email regarding the food pantry. She will also upload the PowerPoint that Octavio Villalpando presented at the Fall Faculty Retreat on student and faculty diversity.
