Chair Baaske convened the meeting at 1:38 p.m.

The Chair’s Announcements:

1.1 ECAR - For the first time ever, Cal State L.A. students will be asked to report their ownership and use of technology in a national survey by EDUCAUSE. A sample of freshman through juniors will be asked to participate via their e-mail. Please encourage your students to participate in this important survey. It will take about 15 minutes to complete and they will be eligible to win a $50 or $100 Amazon gift card.

The survey will only be available for a short window of time so please make announcements at your next lecture.

1.2 GET Focus Groups – The Academic Information Resources Subcommittee is hosting a series of three focus groups on GET and Moodle at the Center for Effective Teaching and Learning (Fine Arts 138) on the following dates:

   Tuesday, March 19, 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. (GET)
   Wednesday, March 20, 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. (Moodle)
   Thursday, March 21, 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. (GET)

Any faculty who utilize GET or Moodle and would like to provide feedback are encouraged to attend one of these sessions. To RSVP check the CETL calendar.

2. Senator Ledesma announced her intent to raise the following questions:

   Question:
   We are all aware of the difficulties that freshman students are experiencing in registering for classes in Spring. It seems unfair to penalize students who are just launching their college careers for administrative processes that failed to anticipate need and resources. The inability to get classes may undermine student motivation and could negatively affect retention and progress towards graduation. Is there any way that CSULA can meet student need for classes by adding courses, despite the fact that the campus would exceed targets?

   Question:
   Students require access to the counseling and mental health support services that are provided by the Student Health Center. Staffing seems to be in flux, following the retirements of Ralph Dawson and Mary Diaz and the subsequent resignations of three CAPS counselors.

   - What is the current staffing situation in CAPS?
   - Is there a CAPS Director, and how many full-time or part-time counselors are available to respond to student needs?
   - Can Senate be provided with a summary of staffing patterns since the retirements of Mary Diaz and Ralph Dawson?
   - Do counselor-staff ratios remain below the prevailing standards for practice in community mental health settings and the CSU?
   - What are the plans for increasing student access to CAPS services?
INTENT TO RAISE QUESTIONS

Question:
The Spring Quarter final examination schedule indicates that classes that meet on Monday after 4:20 p.m. as well as meet any evening at 8:00 p.m. will have examinations scheduled on Saturday, June 15, between 4:30 – 7:00 p.m. This examination schedule may impinge on graduation celebrations and activities that students and families may plan. While I would like to ask: “what were you thinking when this schedule was established,” my question is: Will faculty be accorded flexibility to work out alternative assignments/due dates and scheduling final examinations for classes that are on the Saturday examination schedule? If so, can a statement regarding these accommodations be forwarded across campus?

Provost Vaidya responded: On first question, about freshman students - we are painfully aware and I would like to assure you that we are trying, the deans are working, to ensure that all freshman students get at least 12 units. That is why we have phased registration – to allow students to get classes. An e-mail went out today contacting students who have less than 12 units to try to help them to get to 12 units. We are trying to open up courses between phase 1 and phase 2 for those students who through no fault of their own don’t have 12 units. We are looking at everything.

On the Health Center question, that will be sent to Vice President Ross.

On the third one, you can remind students that are graduating this year that the job market is much better this year than last year.

Acting Associate Dean Jones responded: This is background on the final exam schedule. The reason for that is that we have two Monday holidays in Spring and that prevents us from having this schedule start on a Monday. We have a Tuesday to Saturday schedule. This is not the first time we have done this. It is not ideal but there didn’t seem to be any other possible solution to the problem.
