

Configuring FrontPage for PHP Usage

Before you can use PHP with FrontPage 2003, you must make the following changes to settings in FrontPage:

Hide/Disable features that require the FrontPage Server Extensions

If the Web server that runs your PHP pages has the FrontPage Server Extensions from Microsoft installed, do the following:

1. On the Tools menu, click Page Options, and then click the Authoring tab.
2. Under FrontPage and SharePoint technologies, clear the SharePoint Services and Browse-time Web Components check boxes.

using web templates

Hide/Disable features that create ASP or ASP.NET code

If the Web server that runs your PHP pages can also run ASP, do the following:

1. On the Tools menu, click Page Options, and then click the Authoring tab.
2. Under Browsers, clear the Active Server Pages check box.
