With great respect, Cal State LA acknowledges the Tongva people as the traditional caretakers of Tovaangar (TOE-von-gar) – the Tongva world, including the Los Angeles Basin, South Channel Islands, San Gabriel and Pomona Valleys, and portions of Orange, San Bernardino, and Riverside Counties. Cal State LA is located within these lands. As an institution located on unceded Tongva land, we pay our respects to the ancestors, elders, and our relatives/relations, past, present, and emerging.

About Cal State LA

Cal State LA continues to rank number one in the U.S. based on the upward economic mobility of its students.

Project, which examined the role of colleges and universities in helping individuals climb the income ladder. Cal State LA has propelled a higher percentage of students from the bottom fifth of income into the top fifth of U.S. earners, the study found. Records from more than 2,000 colleges and universities were studied following 30 million students from 1999 to 2013.

HHS Intro to Higher Ed (IHE)

This course aims to develop confident and competent students who create success by optimizing personal wellness, utilizing University resources to foster personal wellness, and collaboratively designing ways to improve community wellness.

KNOWLEDEGE PILLAR I PERSONAL WELLNESS

Optimal life quality is founded upon physical, social, emotional, intellectual, occupational, spiritual, economic, and environmental wellness. The extent of one's wellness stems from the intersection of lifestyle choices respective of these dimensions. This pillar delivers the knowledge and skills that cultivate healthful choices and build habits to enhance life quality.

KNOWLEDGE PILLAR II ACADEMIC/CAREER SUCCESS

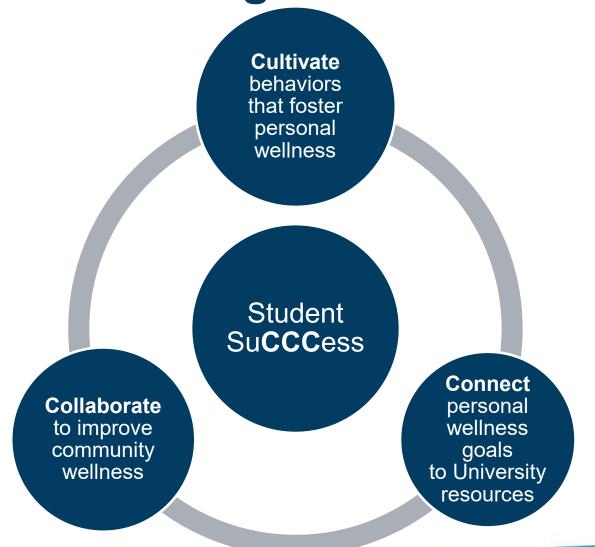

The extent to which one is successful academically, depends on knowledge of resources, degree programs, and degree planning tools. Additionally, career success begins with aligning a professional development plan with a degree plan. This pillar integrates degree and career plans to support ongoing learning and seamless entry into the professional world upon graduation.

KNOWLEDGE PILLAR III CIVIC LEARNING

Individual wellness and success are related to one's ability to realize the empowerment of collaboration and change-agency at the community level, especially when expressed from a problem-solving perspective. This pillar focuses on problem-solving principles and provides students with the opportunity to use these principles to improve the wellness of the University community.

Student Learning Outcomes

Anchor Experience (AX) Events

AX Activity		Brief Description	Assessments
AX1	Achieving Personal Wellness	Students are guided through a process to identify a personal goal and build a step-by-step personal action plan to achieve it by the end of this semester.	Personal Action Plan
AX2	Connecting to Campus in a Virtual Environment	Students are introduced to key resources on campus related to wellness dimensions and related to their own personal action plans.	Personal Acton Plan
AX3	Building an Academic Plan	Students learn about degree planning tools from the Advising Center and hear presentations about HHS majors, career paths, and student organizations.	Degree Plan
AX4	Designing a Professional Plan	Students connect their degree and career plan to professional opportunities on campus such as study abroad, Educational Participation in the Communities (EPIC), internships, and résumé building (Career Center).	Professional Plan
AX5	Building Community Wellness	Students apply civic engagement and wellness dimensions to identify and develop innovative ways to improve wellness in their communities.	Problem- Solving Project

AX4 Designing a Professional Plan

- SLO 3: Students will connect personal wellness goals to University resources.
- Students will engage in developing the following skills:
 - MLO 3.1: Compare personal wellness to features of wellness dimensions.
 - MLO 3.2: Associate University resources with wellness dimensions.
 - MLO 3.4: Choose resources directly related to personal success.
 - MLO 3.5: Utilize the resources to support personal success.
- The assignments will help students connect all of the following:
 - Develop a Personal Mission Statement to affirm your life purpose.
 - Develop a Professional Brand to activate your Personal Mission Statement (AX1) and achieve occupational wellness.
 - Develop a Professional Development Plan to cultivate your Professional Brand.

"Professional Brand" Development

aka Personal Brand

Observations

Students often articulate a basic understanding of: 1) the influences on their career decision-making; 2) how they can contribute to the world of work; 3) the needs of their future profession; and 4) whom they can serve as a professional.

Components

1) My expertise; 2) My contribution; and 3) My uniqueness

Connection to Obtaining Employment

Knowing and articulating the above are essential skills for an effective employment search strategy (e.g., target roles, résumé, interview).

"Professional Brand" Development (cont.)

Approaches Potentially Aligning with the Idea of a "Professional Brand"

- Career Self-Authorship (Laughlin & Creamer, from Baxter Magolda)
- Narrative Career Counseling
 - Systems Theory Framework (Patton & McMahon)
 - Career Construction (Savickas)
- Social Cognitive Model of Career Self-Management (Lent, Brown, & Hackett)
- "Intelligent Career" Navigation (Arthur)
- Life Designing Model for Career Intervention (Savickas, et al.)

Mindsets for Success in the World of Work

- Growth Mindset (Dweck)
- Career Adaptability (Super & Knasel; Savickas)

Relation to Campus Experiences

Observations: 1) Students who apply for internships and jobs seldomly include their experiences on campus as evidence of career readiness for their future career. 2) Students often do not understand how a Bachelor or Master degree prepares for the job market leading to upward economic mobility.

Approaches to Career Decision-Making and Meaning-Making of the College Experience

- Planned Happenstance Learning Theory (Krumboltz)
- Wise Wandering System (Brooks)

Articulating Value to Employers

- Career Readiness Competencies (NACE)
- Engagement and Employability (NASPA)
- Career Capital and Yosso's Community Cultural Wealth

Pre-AX4 Assignment: Professional Brand

Purpose

On the Road to YOUR Best Life, and using your Personal Mission Statement as the foundation, complete the following worksheet to develop your Professional Brand. Think of your Professional Brand as a way to activate your Personal Mission Statement. Meaning, a way to bring your Personal Mission Statement to "life" and in a way that meshes your Professional Brand with your Personal Mission Statement.

Professional Brand Worksheet

My Expertise What's your major (write in the left box) and which classes do you enjoy in your field (include three in the box on the right)? If you haven't chosen a major, which subjects or activities interest you?
My Contribution Who can you help in this field?	(Narrow it down. E.g. What kind of company? What kind of customer/client?)
What can you help them with?	Help them do what? (Be as specific as possible. You can include several ways.)
My Uniqueness List your strongest skills. What special? (Check the word bank	are your strengths and passions, career-wise? What makes you memorable and on the next page for ideas.)

My Professional Brand in Summary

 Using the attached worksheet with examples of professional brand summaries, craft a summary of your professional brand. Consider which problems you want to solve, how you do it uniquely, and for whom you do this. You should customize the samples to your own style, voice, and goals.

Elevator Pitch samples

 When we meet new people, at a career fair for example, we generally introduce ourselves. The Elevator Pitch is that 30-60 second moment when you talk about who you are and what your goals are.

Online Profile Summary (e.g. LinkedIn) sample

• Social networks online typically have an About or Summary section on the profile page. ...

This class is about YOU – your success now – and after you graduate...

IT'S ABOUT YOU BUILDING YOUR BEST LIFE...

Each of our five Anchor X adds a different piece to the build!

DEVELOPING A PROFESSIONAL PLAN

Student and Recent Graduate Panel

What is an internship?

An internship is a form of experiential learning that integrates knowledge and theory learned in the classroom with practical application and skills development in a professional setting.

College students start their internships at different points.

Some start when they've been in an academic program for a few years and others start early in the academic program.

What is the Purpose of an Internship?

- For Employers: To obtain better knowledge of the student as a potential future employee, gain brand recognition and improve community relationships, and to improve diversity efforts.
- For You: To gain real-world view inside a particular industry or job and make informed career choices, to build a network of professional contacts, and to become a competitive job candidate.
