THE GOALS OF REFORM

A city government that is responsive, accountable, equitable, and effective. To prevent corruption, improve governance, and enhance intergroup relations.

THE MOMENT IS NOW

The recording controversy was the impetus, but now the calls for reform are a wave from city hall to community and back. The council, civic and community groups, creative thinkers, and even the state are engaged.

TIMELINE

NOVEMBER 2022 - JUNE 2023

Phase One

Project initiation, development of draft recommendations, and release of public report that provides rationale and research basis.

● Draft ● Recommendations

REDISTRICTING

A more open application process than ever before as to who can apply and geographic balance. A detailed plan for an independent LAUSD commission.

REDUCING SIZE OF COUNCIL DISTRICTS

Increase the council but also have a small number of at-large seats. New ways to calculate the cost of council expansion.

ETHICS REFORMS

Innovative recommendations to empower the ethics commission.

INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING

Establish two independent commissions, one for City of Los Angeles and one for LAUSD

Seventeen-member commissions, built around geography

Additional requirements to be a commissioner beyond state law

Wider pool for applicant eligibility: adult residents

Address the costs of simultaneously running two commissions

REDUCING SIZE OF COUNCIL DISTRICTS

Measuring representational value of smaller districts

Twenty-one districts plus four at-large members

The significance of mixed systems

Possible ways to cut costs of expansion; focus on overall council budget

ETHICS REFORMS

An additional focus beyond the original two topics

Critical in light of city hall scandals

Support for the first two reforms is likely contingent on ethics reforms

Key is to align empowered ethics commission and city council

Two primary recommendations:

- Commission approval of city council ethics legislation
- Authority to place policy recommendations directly on the ballot
