7. New Business

W. Zelman gave a presentation on the faculty role in career advising.

- Discussed the benefits of having staff advisors help students with course selection, substitutions, etc. This change has made it possible for faculty to focus on other topics, like career development. Conducted a study of what other CSU's are doing with regard to career advising. Public Health students were not getting advice on careers here on in other CSU's. Put together a grant proposal to improve career advisement. Possible plans: population based advising. Lit Review of best practices in advising; group advising; class on careers in public health; speaker series; although the focus will be on Cal State LA and public health, the goals it to create replicable processes.

8. Adjournment

M. Fryling adjourned the meeting at 1:30
