

24th Annual American Literature Association Meeting
May 23-26, 2013

The Westin Copley Place Hotel is now sold out.
Please contact A Room With A View for information on the designated ALA overflow hotel. They will secure the lowest available rates within walking distance of The Westin Hotel. In the event that rooms become available at The Westin Hotel due to cancellations, A Room With A View will notify conference attendees and help transfer reservations back to The Westin Hotel in the order in which they were booked. A Room With A View can be reached at 1-800-780-4343. International Attendees can contact A Room With A View via ARWAV@charter.net. This is a FREE SERVICE for all ALA attendees.

Our Boston Location: In 2013, the American Literature Association will return to the Westin Copley Place Hotel in Boston's Back Bay. This is certainly one of the most central and most convenient locations in Boston, with easy access by skybridge to the shops and restaurants of Copley Place Mall and the Prudential Center and only two blocks from Newbury Street and very convenient access to local trains and AmTrak as well as many of the major historical attractions. For further information on the hotel, please consult its website (www.westin.com/copleyplace).

ALA Conference Housing Information: ALA Conference Housing Information: ALA Conference Housing Information: The Westin Copley Place will offer a conference rate of $179 for a single or double room (triples are $199). For reservations, please Go on-line to or call Westin Central Reservations (1-800-WESTIN-1) as soon as possible and no later than April 15, 2011 and request the American Literature conference rate.

<https://www.starwoodmeeting.com/Book/ALA2013>

If you have any difficulties with the 800 number, you can call the Westin Copley Place Boston Reservations Department directly (617-262-9600), but the hotel prefers that you use the 800 number.