Harry Potter: The Sorting Hat

The famous Hogwarts Sorting Hat gives an account of its own genesis in a series of songs sung at the beginning of each school year. Legend has it that the hat once belonged to one of the four founders, Godric Gryffindor, and that it was jointly

Brainstorm!

Ideas for bringing your personality, hobbies, and passions to work as provided by the group:

1. Bringing treats to the office
  - a. Special snack days like “Nacho-Problems” and “Taco Bout It!”
2. Art work on display at your desk
  - a. Can show a common connection for folks who visit your space
3. Displaying souvenirs from travel
4. Office staff bringing graduation regalia around Commencement time
5. Items donated by students being placed on display to help make new students who visit your spaces feel more included
6. Encourage/EMPOWER your teams to bring their passions to the office (for managers and supervisors)
7. Working with other departments on projects whenever possible
