What the Storms Have Brought

Dean Cheryl Ney

The winter rain storms have brought a transformative spring. The once brown lawns of drought plagued California are a verdant green, and reservoirs that were drained to their muddy basins are brimming full. In the same way that a few strong storms can dramatically change the landscape, teaching and learning can, in short period of time, transform lives.

On May 5th, we celebrate this type of transformation at the Honors Convocation/Day of the Educator Celebration. At this event, we will fete students completing their credential programs, outstanding fieldwork site supervisors, and our vitally important school partners. We will recognize undergraduate and graduate degree students for exceptional academic performance, and lastly, but importantly, we will thank the families and you, the educators, who have done so much to bring these students to where they are today - starting their journey as professionals in the field of education. We hope you will don your regalia and join us, both on May 5th at the Honors Convocation/Day of the Educator Celebration, and at Commencement on May 22nd. You'll find info for RSVPing in the Workshops, Sessions, and Events section of the news bulletin.

But first, vacation! Enjoy and get some R&R, so that can you return in April revitalized and ready to sprint to the finish of the academic year! And if you have a few minutes during the break, don't forget to take a moment to reflect on what we do here at the CCOE, as a team, for our students, our communities, and education. For all you do, thank you.

MENTAL & BEHAVIORAL HEALTH CONFERENCE

On March 4, the Mental & Behavioral Health Conference was held at Cal State LA's Golden Eagle Ballrooms. Over 300 attendees listened to keynotes, Dr. Sasha M. Zeedyk, from Cal State Fullerton, and Dr. Bill Takeshita, Director of Low Vision, Braille Institute of America. The event was co-sponsored by the Center for Excellence in Early Intervention & Low Incidence Disabilities, the Center for Multicultural Education, the CCOE Division of Special Education & Counseling, the Rehabilitation Counseling Association, and the School-Based Family Counseling Association.

Educational Leadership Symposium & Career Day

Dr. Seuss Would Be Proud

On March 2, as part of the Dr. Seuss Birthday Celebration, schools across America invited professionals into their classrooms to read to students and to talk about their careers.

The CCOE's Director of Student Services, Agustin Cervantes, spoke to the students at Aurora Elementary, reading the Dr. Seuss classic, Green Eggs and Ham.

Preparing Tomorrow's Leaders Today

The CCOE Educational Administration Program sponsored its annual Educational Leadership Symposium on Wednesday, March 1, with a theme of "Preparing Educational Leaders for Our PK-12 Students." The event started with a research presentation by Dr. Lois Andre-Bechely.

Following that, Superintendent Roberto Martinez, from Los Angeles Unified School District, Local Central, Superintendent Cynthia Parulan-Colfer, from Hacienda La Puente Unified School District, and Superintendent Kathy Perini, from Temple City Unified School District, shared how they prepared their school leaders to maximize the potential of all students as they face the challenges of the global society. The symposium ended with dialogue between panel presenters and students from the Educational Leadership Program.

Gear Up LA

How Do You Gear Up for High School?

On March 10th, the CCOE hosted the GearUP LA event. Students from area schools gathered in King Hall Lecture rooms to hear personal stories by Cal State LA professors about how they navigated high school and beyond as a student of color, achieving academically and working towards their goals.

19th Annual Distinguished Women Awards

McCormick Honored at Cal State LA's Distinguished Women Awards

The CCOE's Jennifer McCormick of the Division of Curriculum and Instruction was one of a select group of women honored as recipient of The 19th Annual Distinguished Women Awards on March 8, 2017. CCOE colleagues, family and friends joined Jennifer at the celebration.

ULRN Goes to the Ducks

ULRN Students Partner with Anaheim Ducks

On Monday, March 6, students from the CCOE Urban Learning Program went to the Honda Center to help the Anaheim Ducks with their outreach program, First Flight Field Trip. The group of about 25 ULRN students taught a short lesson about how ice is created for the arena. The theme of the event was “Cool Like Ice” and the students learned about the states of matter and how the rink stays cold. The ULRN students also taught a lesson about how to build the rink to rotating groups of students from schools in the surrounding areas.

Awards & Accolades

Saeki awarded a Spencer Foundation Grant

Dr. Elina Saeki, CCOE Assistant Professor and School Psychology Program Coordinator, was awarded a $50,000 grant by the Spencer Foundation.

She will conduct the funded study in association with researchers at Temple University and the University of Hartford.

The study will examine teacher psychosocial wellbeing among first year teachers in urban schools and look at supporting teacher wellbeing and professional effectiveness in meaningful ways that not only support teacher retention, but also promote student achievement.

Pebdani Part of Cal State LA Researchers to Receive Federal Grant

Dr. Roxanna Pebdani of the CCOE Division of Special Education and Counseling is part of an interdisciplinary team at California State University, Los Angeles that has been awarded a $600,000 grant from the federal government to research the exercise needs of wheelchair users, specifically those with traumatic spinal cord injuries.

Dean Ney Supports Linked Learning

Dean Cheryl Ney served as an evaluator for student projects in the health career pathways program at Blair High School in the Pasadena Unified School District (PUSD). This district is one of the original nine districts that have participated in the statewide linked learning arena. Their senior capstone portfolio assessment process, designed by Assistant Superintendent Marissa Sarian, is exemplary.

CCOE alum and O&M Specialist Featured on KTLA News

Vince Fazzi, Jr., who received his Master's degree and credential as an Orientation and Mobility Specialist at the CCOE at Cal State L.A., was recently featured in a news story on KTLA demonstrating how, as an O&M specialist for the Los Angeles Unified School District, he teaches a visually impaired student to navigate independently.

Fazzi, who serves as an adjunct professor at the CCOE, is also the son of CCOE Associate Dean, Diane Fazzi. The news story showcases one of the many different ways our graduates serve the public good. To view the piece, visit: <http://ktla.com/2017/02/14/teacher-for-the-blind/>

Zetlin on Teaching Exceptional Learners

Andrea Zetlin, Ed.D., professor emerita in the CCOE Division of Special Education and Counseling at California State University, Los Angeles, was recently featured in an article in CSU News, "Teaching Those Who Teach Exceptional Learners." To read, visit:

<https://www2.calstate.edu/csusystem/news/Pages/Teaching-Those-Who-Teach-Exceptional-Learners.aspx>

Chang Named Golden Eagle of the Week

Ya-Chih "Jilly" Chang, Assistant Professor, Division of Special Education and Counseling, Charter College of Education, was recently named a Gold Eagle of the Week by the Cal State LA University Times.

About her work at the CCOE she said, "The most rewarding part about being an early childhood special education professor at Cal State LA is seeing our students use strategies that they've learned in class in practice. Our students are amazing individuals! I'm always so proud to see them effectively teaching young children with and without special needs out in the community."

Honoring Outstanding Teachers Of America

Honor and Reward Exceptional California High School Teachers

The Carlston Family Foundation seeks to challenge all Americans to engage in addressing the many important and critical issues facing education today. The Foundation endeavors to identify exemplary educators who, by their own example, honor the value of knowledge through their consistent dedication, determination and commitment to help their students find success. These life-changing teachers make it possible for students to learn how to incorporate the academic and personal skills required for continued success.

The Carlston Family Foundation Award Winning teachers come to the attention of the Foundation from former students who are currently attending, or have graduated from, four-year institutions of higher education. These students believe their high school teachers were responsible for providing the guidance, mentoring and academic skills necessary for them to achieve success in higher education. To date, the Foundation has honored 71 exceptional California secondary teachers. Each Honoree receives a $15,000 cash award and their high school receives a cash award of $5,000. In addition, Honorees become members of the Foundation Advisory Board, dedicated to improving instruction in California classrooms, the recruitment and retention of exceptional teachers and the continuous improvement of the state's education system.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED...

The Carlston Family Foundation collaborates with Colleges, Universities and a variety of foundations and scholarship programs throughout the country to identify students who attended low performing high schools, with few resources and located in highly culturally diverse communities, and who have achieved academic success despite financial, family or personal problems. The goal of the Foundation is to contact and provide information to as many students as possible who believe a former teacher had a life-changing impact on their lives and whom they might wish to nominate and recognize for their continued excellence as teachers and mentors.

The Carlston Family Foundation's Executive Director is available to speak to College or University administration, faculty members, Foundation Executive Directors and staff, as well as student groups, to share the Foundation's mission and the importance of recognizing teachers who consistently have a profound, life-changing influence on the lives of students. The Foundation will provide printed information for distribution to students explaining how nominations may be made via the Foundation website. The Foundation also makes Carlston Honorees available for professional development activities and other teaching assignments throughout the state.

REQUIREMENTS FOR FINALISTS:

- Must be nominated by former student enrolled in or graduated from a 4-year College or University
- Must be teaching in a low socio-economic, disadvantaged or high need school/district
- Must currently be teaching in a California High School
- Must have had a documented, consistent and profound, life-changing academic influence on students

Help Us Honor and Reward Exceptional High School Teachers!
To Nominate: Go to www.carlstonfamilyfoundation.org

Nominations are open for the 2017 Outstanding Teacher of America Awards

ITS INFO FOR FALL

IMPORTANT INFO ABOUT Requests for Software Installation

Deadline is June 23, 2017 for submitting requests to ITS for fall semester 2017 software installation on instructional workstations in Open Access Labs, Computer Classrooms, and Technologically Enhanced Classrooms (TECs).

Requirements:

All software, including software that accompanies textbooks, must comply with the standards set by the CSU Accessible Technology Initiative \(ATI\) to ensure comparable access for persons with disabilities.

You will be required to test the installation functionality with the Desktop Services team before the beginning of each term to be sure it meets your needs. Desktop Services will contact you to arrange the testing.

Actions:

Requests should be submitted electronically. Visit <http://www.calstatela.edu/its/services/software/instructsoftwarerequest.php/> and select the appropriate Software Installation Request Form. Requests can be submitted one term in advance.

During the term break, images will be deployed for use on the first day of the term.

Installation requests must be received by IT Infrastructure Services by June 23 for fall semester. Every effort will be made to accommodate requests within 72 hours when limited to installation in TECs and large lecture halls.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact Jeff Cheam, assistant director of ITS Baseline Services, at 323-343-2643 or email: jcheam@calstatela.edu.
