

Cal State LA's only fully online Certificate Program. Be part of a rapidly growing field!

HOME-BASED VISITATIONS CERTIFICATE FOR PROFESSIONALS

Assisting and educating families while addressing a community-wide need.

This fully online certificate program will provide professionals with the knowledge and skills to work within home settings to support child development. The courses will include the latest in research on brain and emotional development.

The program will use on-line lectures, real-world case studies, reflective exercises, and hands-on activities that will provide best practices.

Research shows home visiting can be an effective method of delivering family support and child development services.

(Zero To Three, National Center for Infants, Toddlers & Families)
