Why Cal State LA?

Home to over 60 nationally recognized graduate and undergraduate programs, Cal State LA has been an educational leader in Los Angeles and Southern California for 70 years. Proud university distinctions include:

- TIME Magazine's list of top colleges has ranked Cal State LA 24th
- Cal State LA was ranked number one in the U.S. for the upward mobility of its students according to a study published by The New York Times
- Cal State LA's business, engineering, and nursing programs have been recognized among the nation's best by U.S. News & World Report and is among the top public institutions in California to be included on this list
- Cal State LA's Hydrogen Research and Fueling facility is the largest self-producing station in the world housed on a university campus

Housing

Due to limited availability and high demand, on-campus housing at Cal State LA is offered only as space allows. Fall Semester is usually full. Spring semester may have more available bed spaces. Students are able to pursue off campus housing options as well. A comprehensive list of off-campus housing resources is provided to all students who are accepted into the program.

Off-Campus Housing Options Include:

- Homestays with local American families
- Student-dedicated dormitory-style apartment buildings with professional management teams
- Apartment building addresses in the local area and along established bus lines
- Apartment search websites
