

School of Nursing
Cal State L.A.
Nursing Simulation lab

Fall 2012

I think one's feelings waste themselves in words, they ought all to be distilled into actions which bring results.
-Florence Nightingale

Ready for Real World Nursing?

One of the ways in which CSULA incorporates teaching is through the avenue of nursing simulations. Being equipped with what students have learned, they are presented with clinical scenarios in the simulation lab, and are expected to respond to them using these skills. As a culmination to the BSN program, the seniors of the Class of Winter 2013 participated in the Care of Multiple Patients/Delegation simulation. These sessions involved students acting within the capacity of various disciplines that interact in patient care, and working with each other to care for multiple patients. This was a chance for the seniors to bring together all that they have learned and practice professional behavior, priority setting, and proper nursing technique. In a way, it was the final conduit to help transition the senior students into Registered Nurses and send them off into the professional workforce.

Food for Thought

They may forget your name, but they will never forget how you made them feel.
-Maya Angelou

Panic plays no part in the training of a nurse.
- Elizabeth Kenny

School of Nursing
Cal State L.A.
Nursing Simulation lab

Fall 2012

Simulated Clinical Experiences

All nursing students experience Simulated Clinical Experiences (SCE) throughout the Nursing Curriculum. SCE begins as basic uncomplicated realistic patient situations and increase their complexity as nursing students progress in their knowledge and skills. Student feedback is very positive for simulated experiences and they have expressed a desire for more simulations. The skills lab is expanding the number of course Simulations to meet this desire and the need for standardized clinical outcomes.

