Lujan is New Provost/VPAA

al State L.A. recently welcomed Herman D. Lujan to campus as Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

In his new post, which became effective Summer 2001, Lujan is responsible for guidance, direction and policy formation for Cal State L.A.'s instructional program.

Lujan was president of the University of Northern Colorado and chief academic officer of the Connecticut State University System, where he was chief liaison to the leadership of the four system campuses and to the Connecticut Board of Governors for Higher Education.

His diverse and extensive experience at all levels of university administration, includes particular expertise in university and academic governance, institutional and statewide policy, strategic planning, governmental and business relations, community leadership and assistance to trustees.

A leader in national educational organizations, he has been active in the programs of the American Council on Education and the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

A professor of political science, Lujan holds an A.B. from Saint Mary's College of California, an M.A. from UC Berkeley, a Ph.D. from the University of Idaho, and an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters from Saint Mary's College of California.

Tsai Named College Dean

wei-wu Tsai, an internationally respected engineer and scholar, was recently appointed Dean of the College of Engineering, Computer Science, and Technology, effective August 6, 2001. Tsai was most recently Associate Dean of Engineering for Undergraduate Studies and a professor of civil engineering at San Jose State University.

Tsai's degrees in Civil Engineering include: a B.S. from National Taiwan University, and an M.A., M.S. and Ph.D. from Princeton University. He is a registered civil engineer in both Taiwan and in the state of California, where he is also a Registered Geotechnical Engineer.

Selected as San Jose State's Civil Engineering Professor of the Year in 1976, 1984 and 1992, Tsai received the university's Outstanding Professor Award in 1992. A chapter honorary member of Chi Epsilon, the National

Civil Engineering Honor Society, he received the society's highest honor, the James M. Robbins National Outstanding Teaching Award, in 1993. The San Jose State chapter of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi awarded him the Distinguished Academic Achievement Award in 1993. In 1996, he received the San Jose State University President's Special Recognition Award. (See related article, p. 8)

Outstanding Staff Celebrated

A t the festive 27th Annual Staff Awards Ceremony at Cal State L.A., the 2001 Outstanding Staff Award was presented to Elizabeth "Libby" Kent, University travel coordinator for Business Financial Services. Kent was selected by a committee that received nominations submitted by colleagues, faculty and students.

Reading from a nominating letter, Deborah Roberson-Simms, director of Human Resource Management, described Libby Kent as "committed to quality work and service..." "[Libby] possesses the ideal set of people, communication and professional skills," continued Roberson-Sims. "She is courteous and concerned with helping others, often taking time to go the extra mile to explain procedures in an understandable manner."

Kent has worked for Cal State L.A. for more than 20 years. She demonstrates her extraordinary school spirit by attending Cal State L.A. basketball, tennis and volleyball games, both at home and away.

She is also an active volunteer for the YMCA Kids Day Camp, visits convalescent homes, serves in many capacities within her church, and is a motivational speaker for dialysis and transplant patients.

In addition to recognizing the outstanding staff awardees at the annual event, the University community gathered together honoring employees with 10, 15, 20, 25, and 30 years of service.

ENERGY CONSERVATION From the Office of Administration and Finance

Ithough Cal State L.A. is in the Department of Water and Power's service territory, the University is a State Agency required to maximize its conservation efforts, especially during Stage 3 electricity emergency alerts. "As a general practice we must try to conserve energy wherever possible and shut down all equipment that is not in use or essential to conduct University business," said Steve Garcia, vice president for Administration and Finance.

The campus community will be notified by e-mail of all future Stage 3 electricity emergency alerts. At that point, the following conservation measures should be implemented:

Computer and IT Equipment: a) Turn off personal computers and monitors that are not in use or essential to conducting University business. Each work place should keep at least one computer with a network connection on to receive emails that contain critical information. Remember to turn off all computers at the close of business. b) Turn off testing, classroom, or laboratory computers that are not essential or in use. c) Turn off monitors for file and application servers when not in use. d) Turn off other non-essential IT equipment, including printers, scanners, copiers, and other peripheral equipment.

Lighting: a) Reduce lighting levels in work areas to the minimum acceptable levels consistent with personal safety and security. Exercise caution to ensure that reduced lighting levels do not create an unsafe work environment. b) In areas where there are no automatic sensors, all lights shall be turned off in unoccupied rooms.

Other Electrical Loads: a) Turn off and unplug all non-essential electrical appliances (e.g., coffee machines, microwaves, personal space heaters and fans). Do not turn off refrigerators.

These measures will contribute toward alleviating the state's current electricity problems. Your cooperation is appreciated.

HONORS AND APPOINTMENTS

On June 9, 2001, Jon Beaupre (Communication Studies) was awarded four Los Angeles Press Club awards for his work at KPFK radio: Best Radio News Feature, "Compton Homies & Popz," about homeless activist Ted Hayes and his cricket team made up of homeless men and would-be gang-bangers (The piece aired on BBC's The World, June 6, 2000.); Best Investigative Reporting, for the story on L.A.'s controversial water recycling proposal called "Toilet to Tap" which aired on NPR's Living on Earth, the week of July 14, 2000; Best Use of Sound, for the backgrounder on Erin Brockovich, which aired on NPR's Living on Earth, the week of Mar. 31, 2000; and Best Radio Sports Report, for the story on the international hang-gliding community in Southern California, which aired on BBC's The World, May 30, 2000.

Maria Karafilis (English) was elected the 2000-01 presiding officer of the U.S. Literature before 1870 division and was awarded a 2001-02 Huntington Library Fellowship.

Athletic Director of the Year

al State L.A. director of Intercollegiate Athletics Carol M. Dunn has been named a recipient of the 2001

NACDA/Continental Airlines Athletic Director of the Year Award, presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. Dunn is one of four regional winners in NCAA Division II and one of 25 national honorees.

Dunn became athletic director at Cal State L.A. in 1988 after six years as associate athletic director. Dunn was honored for developing a strong mission and strategic plan, and a highly effective academic advisement program for studentathletes that includes counseling, course advisement, tutoring, progress checks and monitored study halls.

Cal State L.A. has enjoyed great athletics success in Dunn's 13 years, earning 28 NCAA individual championships and making a total of 58 team appearances in NCAA Championship competitions during her tenure. Additionally, Cal State L.A. won 12 CCAA conference team titles during the 1990s and owns 31 all-time CCAA crowns.

Fundraising also has been a key component of Cal State L.A.'s athletics success. The annual golf tournament has sold out for nine straight years and Cal State L.A. alumna tennis great Billie Jean King has donated her time for an annual day-long event since 1998.

The Billie Jean King and Friends event, renamed in 2000 to honor the late Joe Shapiro, has to date earned more than $365,000 for athletics scholarships and made possible a Billie Jean King endowed scholarship presented annually to a Golden Eagles women's tennis member.

In 1991, Dunn was named to the list of "2,000 Notable American Women," and in 1995, was appointed to the prestigious NCAA Council, where she chairs the Division II amateurism committee. Dunn received her bachelor's and master's degrees from Frostburg State University, MD.

NOTIFICATION OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE AMERICANS WITH DIS-ABILITIES ACT (ADA)

California State University, Los Angeles does not permit discrimination on the basis of disability in admission to, access to, or operation of its instruction, programs, services, or activities, or in its hiring and employment practices. Also, the University does not permit harassment based on a protected disability. In addition, the University does not permit discrimination or harassment based on an applicant's, employee's, or student's relationship with or association with anyone with a known protected disability.

Upon request, the University will consider reasonable accommodation when needed to facilitate the participation of persons with ADA-protected disabilities. Reasonable accommodations will be considered to permit individuals with protected disabilities to (a) complete the admission/employment process, (b) perform essential job functions, (c) participate in instruction, programs, services or activities, and (d) enjoy other benefits and privileges of similarly-situated individuals without disabilities.

Questions, concerns, complaints and requests for reasonable accommodation or additional information may be forwarded to the Office for Equity and Diversity, the campus office assigned responsibility for compliance with the ADA. The Office for Equity and Diversity is located in Administration 605 and open Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., (323) 343-3040 [TDD: (323) 343-3270].

ADA Complaint

If you feel you have experienced discrimination or harassment due to your protected disability in connection with your association with the University, please make your concern known. You may obtain a complaint form from the Office for Equity and Diversity.

Your concern will be treated confidentially, considered carefully, and investigated promptly, thoroughly, and objectively. If corrective action is appropriate, it will be taken. No action will be taken against you for filing your complaint, so long as you believe the complaint to be valid.

POLICY ON THE PROHIBITION OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT

California State University, Los Angeles will take action to prevent and eliminate sexual harassment, as mandated by the Chancellor's Executive Order No. 345.

Sexual harassment is conduct subject to disciplinary action, including termination. Sexual harassment* includes but is not limited to:

*Unwanted sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

* Any act which contributes to a workplace or learning environment that is hostile, intimidating, offensive, or adverse to persons because of the sexual nature of the conduct.

* Conditioning an act, decision, evaluation, or recommendation on the submission to or tolerance of any act of a sexual nature.

Although this policy focuses on the treatment of persons lacking or holding lesser authority by persons possessing greater authority, it does not preclude the possibility that sexual harassment may also be perpetrated by persons lacking or holding lesser authority e.g., employee, student, or applicant. In determining whether conduct constitutes sexual harassment, the circumstances surrounding the conduct are considered.

The prohibition against sexual harassment applies to all transactions of University business, whether on or off campus.

Individuals with supervisory authority are responsible for reporting a formal complaint about sexual harassment to a designated complaint investigator. Failure to do so may lead to appropriate administrative action.

Specific rules and procedures for reporting charges of sexual harassment and for pursuing available remedies are available in the following locations: Human Resource Management, Office for Equity and Diversity; Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs; University Counseling Center; and Women's Resource Center.

NONDISCRIMINATION POLICY

California State University, Los Angeles, affirms its commitment to equality of opportunity for all individuals. This commitment requires that no discrimination shall occur in any program or activity of the University on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, disabled veteran's or Vietnam era veteran's status, or any other classification that precludes a person from consideration as an individual. This policy is in accord with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, as amended, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and related administrative regulations and executive orders. Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX, Sections 503 and 504, and other nondiscrimination laws may be referred to the Office for Equity and Diversity (Telephone: 323-343-3040), the campus office assigned the administrative responsibility of reviewing such matters. Title IX inquiries may also be directed to the Regional Director of the Office for Civil Rights, Region IX, Old Federal Building, 50 United Nations Plaza, Room 239, San Francisco, CA 94102.

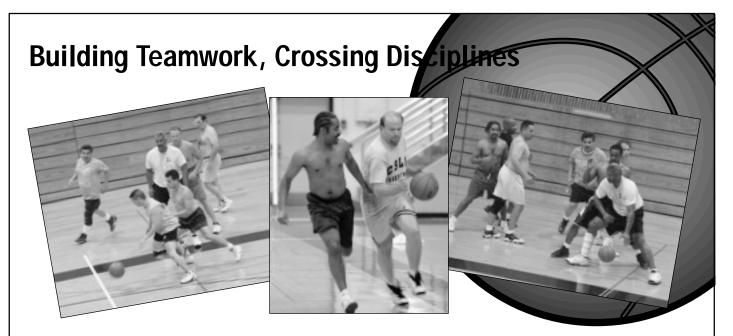

* The parameters of 'sexual harassment' are legally defined by State and Federal statutes and Court decisions. While the policy set forth above describes actions which fall generally within the scope of "sexual harassment," all CSU employees and students are required to conduct themselves in a manner that avoids sexual harassment as defined by State and Federal law.

In Memoriam

Anthony Longhetti, 72, passed away on June 11, 2001. A much loved and respected professor in the Criminal Justice Department and director of the master's degree program in Criminalistics, Longhetti received his B.A. at UC Berkeley and his M.P.A. at CSU San Bernardino. He was recognized as a pioneer in the field of forensic science and studied at UC Berkeley under Paul Kirk. In 1957, he was hired by the San Bernardino Sheriff's Department to establish its first crime lab. He remained in this capacity for 26 years. In 1983, he was appointed deputy chief in charge of the Scientific Investigations Bureau. He retired from the San Bernardino Sheriff's Department in 1989, and began a teaching career at Cal State L.A. He was associated with many civic and professional organizations, among them the California Association of Criminalists, of which he was past president and a life member. He was president of the American Academy of Forensic Science and a member of the American Society of Crime Laboratory Director's Laboratory Accreditation Board.
